It was a bright, sunny day. Sam and his family were getting ready to go for their annual picnic. Sam's mother, Mrs Gupta, was preparing the food. His father, Mr Gupta, was looking for the picnic-basket to put the food in. Mrs Rima Gupta had filled the basket with sandwiches, sodas, cheese, apples and oranges. Once they were all ready, they had to wait for Sam's friend, Rahul, to arrive. There was an extra seat in their car, so they had asked him to come. After ten minutes, Rahul arrived, and they set out on their short journey.
